Research and Development

In order to maintain the company's leading position, we keep applying more different and composite materials, and developing more advanced technologies. By calling on its rich experience in basic material science and physical/chemical surface treatments, Catcher adopts different materials and different processes in combination with a variety of secondary processing and surface treatments in a multilayer, multi-directional approach to make products and an in-house technology with high precision, high value-added, and high mass production capacity.

The current directions in research and development include special magnesium alloys, aluminum alloys, stainless steel, carbon (glass) fiber, plastic casing and other metal applied on products' casing and structural design, for example, even one NB model could have combinations from different designs for its A, C, D parts. Catcher offers customers with one-stop shopping solutions based on the complete and strong technology matrix. In addition, the company also adopts laser engraving of components, along with seamless welding, metal /plastic injection mold techniques, etching and multi-color surface treatment techniques, and high precision extrusion techniques for large metal casing in smartphones, notebooks and tablets to achieve the high quality that has never seen before. Besides, the company also invests a lot of effort in extending into other niche products such as high strength glass, sapphire processing technologies, and new thermal application of metal. The metal materials can also be used in the biotechnology, medical industry and high density energy field. The latest research and development of Catcher are : 1) diamond-like carbon (DLC) coatings on aluminum and stainless steel; 2)multi-color combo electric chemical method on aluminum and stainless steel; 3)thermal plastic composites and its 3D forming technology; 4)color enhanced photology on metal casing; 5)RF-free unibody process on metal and carbon composites.

Business strategies

To continuously strengthen the competitive advantage in this industry, along with our vertical integration, Catcher is going to use advanced materials, designs, technological process innovation and superior manufacturing capability to create the massive economy of scale and to form an even larger competitive edge. That would therefore improve our relationships with customers and expand to new application to keep growth momentum in sales and profits.

Catcher will also continue its investment in production automation, which has already contributed significantly to the production management. Therefore, it is key that to enhance the production stability, productivity, and to expand the capacity further. We will aim to actively achieve human resource optimization and accumulate resources for progress. To boost the company's growth, we will continue our development of core products and technologies, expansion of new customers, and diversification of applications.

The diversification and allocation of our facilities is also on going. We expect to achieve optimal allocation among four sites; Taiwan, Suzhou, Suqian, and Taizhou. Therefore, the risk of sole factory site and the impact from volatile market and operating environmental can be reduced.

Important sales policies

The outlook of the metal casing business: smartphones will grow significantly to replace the feature phones and will further penetrate into more markets and customers and thus smartphones will be the largest growth drivers in the next few years. We also see notebook brands lean toward the slim design and the rise of tablets also indicates the trend of thin and light portable devices is confirmed. Overall, looking at the design trend of each consumer electronic devices mentioned above, metal will be the best solution for the mobile devices. Wearable devices also flourished in 2015 with single brand's selling volume achieving a certain level of scale. As wearable devices also adopt metal casing design, this could be one of the growth drivers in the future.

The commitment of the main customers in choosing the materials and partnering with the vendors is getting higher. Catcher will also fully utilize its competitive advantages to continuously increase capacity at a steady pace to meet customers' demands and to gradually implement fastest manufacturing/sales support for the customers. In order to achieve instant customer services, sales, manufacturing, and R&D will be closer to the customers with the aim to progress at the same pace as the customers.

Effects of external competition, legislative environment, and macro environment

In terms of external competition, the gross profit in the IT electronics industry will be increasingly compressed as technology progresses in leaps and bounds and new products are being constantly launched. The generally positive outlook of metal component parts is drawing a wave of new competitors, creating a significant amount of pressure on the existing businesses. However, competition is inevitable and serves to maintain positive catalyst among this industry. In order to ensure our leading position, the company pays close attention to the markets and technological development and changes by collecting and analyzing the information on different materials and manufacturing process. The objective is to reduce the impact of changes in technology while keep enhancing advanced technologies. In addition to investing in basic material science, the company also reinforces development in different material molding as well as processing and surface treatments, enhances core R&D techniques, and diversifies its products and lift them onto higher levels to secure and stabilize profits. Excellent production techniques and huge capacity will be utilized to provide premium customer services in order to strengthen mutually beneficial for long term relationships.

With respect to the legislative environment in Taiwan and overseas, countries around the world have been launching environmental protection laws regarding electronic products. In addition, the tier-1 brand customers set the high requirement on its suppliers' code and demand all of the vendors to comply with strictly. The company has always been committed to environmentally friendly production processes and will undoubtedly meet the legislative requirements and keep up with the global trend. The company will continue to monitor, update, and comply with any new legislative implementation in order to protect the rights of the shareholders.

As the macro environment becomes more complex, the company will take into account the industry conditions and macro economic indicators, and carefully evaluate and select the best strategies.

Business outlook and targets

Looking forward, the focus of development for Catcher will be on three segments: smartphones, tablets, and notebooks. Wearable devices have already grown to a new market, which will be a new area that metal casing vendors could tap into in the future.

For smartphone market in 2015, IDC indicated the shipments of smartphones to be around 1.433 billion, up 10.1% y-y in a high pace. IDC also estimates the smarphone will increase to 1.563 billion units in 2016, up 8.8% y-y , and up 8% to 1.687 billion units in 2017. We expect the competition between different brands and different operating systems to be more fierce in the future for smartphones, thus mid-to-high models will be the main source of profitability for brand customers. High value-added and product differentiation will be the fundamental for tier 1 brands to expand market share. Moreover, due to the trend of being larger screen size, thinner, lighter and fashions for smartphones, metal casing has become one of the must-have specifications. The trend of metal casing design also leads to the “bigger gets bigger” in the industry. As a result, smartphones remain one of the main growth drivers for the Company.

MIC indicated the shipment of of Tablet PC in 2015 was around 213 million units, compared with 242 million in 2014, down by 12%. MIC forecast that tablet will further decrease to 191/183 million units in 2016/2017, cannibalized by both larger screen-size smartphones. However, the launch of larger-size tablet PC and booming of 2-in-1 tablet drives tablet to penetrate into a new segment of the market. Compared to notebook, tablet is more convenient and thus it requires higher requirement on strength and outlook. Therefore, tablet will continue to be one of the important products for metal casing vendors.

On the PC side, MIC indicates the unit shipment in 2015 was 281 million, decreasing by 7.5% YoY from 304 million in 2014, which was mainly from the cannibalization of both smartphones and tablet PC. MIC further estimates that the PC will decline slightly by 1.7% YoY to 277 million units in 2016 and another 1.7% to 272 million in 2017. Overall PC market will stabilize at around 260-270 million annual unit shipment.

Notebook shipments of 2015 were 161 million, compared to 172 million units in 2014, declining by 6.2% y-y. As for 2016/2017, it will stabilize a little bit to 155/151 million units, down by 3.9%/2.8% YoY, respectively. Notebooks business is still one of important part for our sales revenue. Although it's mature, the slim and stylish design of products can increase the penetration rate of metal casing. We expect the NB business could be quite stable, due to the stable demand for corporate models and some consumer models will switch to high end metal casings.

Looking ahead into 2016, mobile devices, especially smartphones, will continue to grow, metal adoption will increase, penetration into the new areas, all of which will drive the metal casing sector to grow. In addition, Catcher will see significant growth from continuing rising demand from the existing customers and new products/new customers' add. Catcher will continue to develop special production processes, techniques, and materials in combination with the existing production techniques to keep strengthening the comprehensive manufacturing matrix, which will enable the company to remain a leading manufacturer in metal casing and inner components worldwide as a major supplier that can meet customers' requirements of execution, capacity, quality, yield rate, mass production capability, cost structure, customized and innovative designs. In terms of sales forecast, although differences in product specifications, sizes, diversification of materials and processing techniques render the company's forecast of metal component sales meaningless, the goal for Catcher is still committed to outperforming the average industry growth in the future.

Catcher will continue to uphold its philosophy of Innovative Technology, Customer Services, Honesty and Integrity, and Sustainable Development, and work toward the goal of becoming a world leader in light metals technology. The company will also remain committed to product innovation, business model optimization, production technology enhancement, and cost structure improvement in order to maintain the leading position. Hence, it does not matter how the business environment changes in the future, we have the ambition, confidence, and determination to achieve our goals and create maximum value for our customers, shareholders, and employees.
